Gets FBI School Diploma Today

M. H. (Hank) Porter, assistant police chief, will be among 90 graduates of the FBI National Academy, Washington, D. C.

who will receive their diplomas today. He has been attending the academy for the past six weeks in order to pass along the knowledge he has gained to other members of the Torrance Police Department. Porter, a member of the police force since 1946, was selected for this special training by Police Chief Percy Bennett. He is expected to take his three weeks vacation before reporting back for duty.

Men Model New Styles

Drifters Square Dance Club were hosts Thursday night to other square dance clubs in the area, at a Halloween costume party in Alondra Park.

Mayor Albert Isen Awarded trophies to the Buds and Blooms Square Dance Club, the Boots and Bows, and the Drifters, for the performances during the recent Merchants' Midnight Madness Night.

Guest callers for the evening's dancing were Fred Hawthorne, Mina Cheek, Al Majors, and Dick Riggs. Noble Spees is the home caller.

Highlight of the evening was the inspired fashion show presented by Kenny Brooks, in formal evening gown and real Southern accent; Dean Meyer-ann, modeling a Southern California square dance dress; Leonard Pettit, in short style square dance gown; Ben Chandler, in a sports dress; and Red Fackrel, in a style "acceptable to Mrs. Fackrel, president of the Drifters."

Mrs. Loretta Sharp was presented with a 1950 automobile. A party dance for beginners was held at Alondra Park Saturday night, at which time the men again modeled their styles. Members of the Wagon Wheels, square dance club for 10-12 year old girls, will hold a fashion show the later part of November.
